PROJECTS

Project Name: Major Project: "Defensive Modeling of Fake News Through Online Social Network"

Role: Project Lead and Developer

In this major project, I led a team to develop a robust defensive model aimed at combating the spread of fake news within online social networks. Spearheaded the development of a pioneering defensive model to mitigate the proliferation of fake news, demonstrating innovation and problem-solving skills in addressing contemporary challenges in online information dissemination. Collaborated effectively with cross-functional teams of IT engineers, data scientists, and domain experts, showcasing strong teamwork and communication abilities to achieve project objectives and deliver impactful results.

Project Name: Minor Project: "My Privacy My Decision - Control of Photo Sharing on Online Social Networks"
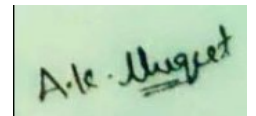

Role: Lead Developer

As the lead developer in this minor project, I addressed privacy concerns related to photo sharing on online social networks. Developed user-centric solution for customizable photo sharing control on online social networks, enhancing user privacy and control. Implemented robust security measures and granular privacy settings, ensuring compliance with regulations and industry standards. Collaborated with interdisciplinary team to design, implement, and deploy the solution, demonstrating strong teamwork and project management skills.
